

FORTY YEARS A DRUGGIST He Endorses PERUNA

Read this from Mr. L. A. Richardson of Marine, Illinois:

"I have been engaged in the retail drug business here for the past forty years. During this time I have seen many patent medicines come into use, flourish for one or two years and then gradually disappear. There are very few of these remedies that possess enough real merit to insure them long life. Peruna has always been a good seller with us, with a marked increase from year to year. The change in the formula some years ago, by the addition of the slightly laxative properties, has made it a reliable remedy for constipation and for colds. I taken hourly in three days' time, by take pleasure in urging my brother druggists to recommend it for these two ailments."

LETTERS FROM BOURBON COUNTY SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

During a brief respite from official duties Dr. A. H. Keller, former Health Officer and Paris physician, now stationed at the Emergency Hospital, at Nitro, West Virginia, writes THE NEWS as follows:

"Your highly appreciative message came to-day and was most heartily enjoyed. It is certainly pleasing and gratifying to a man away from home to hear from his friends, and this includes all such wherever they may be. "Our work here is pleasantly laborious. Dr. E. J. Wells, from Cynthiana, and myself are making all entrance examinations at the Emergency Hospital. The two of us are examining and prescribing for more than 400 men each day. The work is decidedly different from that in civil practice. Here we are examining and prescribing for a man in two minutes-and-a-half. Our examinations must necessarily be kaleidoscopic, changes to quick scenes and variety. At that the work is pleasant though continuous and exacting, not a minute lost.

"The big sitting room and the line communicating thereto is filled with an eager, uncertain, motley and unending assortment of humanity—Americans, French, English, Italian, Mexican, Spanish, Portuguese, Russian, Danes, Swedes, Poles, Greek, East India, Egyptian, Indian, Irish, Welsh, Chinese, Japs and many other tribes of the human family. Many of them are intelligent, comely, well-behaved men. Some of them are probably leaders in the civic life of the various communities from whence they came. Others are mediocre in mental development, and still others are devoid of a semblance of such development, though they appear to be sober, industrious, patriotic workers. And I believe they are all endowed with such spirit as becomes a true American citizen. It doesn't follow because they are foreigners they are beyond the possibility of Americanization. Any such argument would be fallacious, unkind and unreasonable.

"Very many of these people are loyal and most exactly patriotic men and women, whose hearts, souls, bodies and brains are interested in the work incident to the proper conduct of the war. One old man (I say old advisedly, as he is but sixty-two) told me, after his inoculation to-day that he had given up the comforts of home and friends to come here and take an active part in the production of enough powder to blow up the Kaiser, his sons, von Hindenberg, Ludendorff, and the whole blamed bunch, and I have no reason to doubt the veracity of his statement.

"My hours of work are from 8:00 a. m. until 12:30 p. m., and from 1:30 p. m. to 5:00 p. m. Was officer of the night for the Emergency Hospital Sunday night. Such an officer's duty is to care for everything transpiring therein for that special night, receive and treat all patients, be they surgical or otherwise—though there are, however, two of us. We are at any time liable to be called for similar work at the Base Hospital. Here there are perhaps five hundred or more beds. All details incident to the building, equipment and management of this Hospital are second to none in this country.

"This is one of the largest powder making plants in America, a city itself, complete in every detail, each man and woman a laborer, and of such there are probably 35,000. The rush and hurry along State street in Chicago and Broadway, New York, are not more than comparable to conditions here. It doesn't matter which way the compass may point it still points to a rushing, eager, earnest body of laborers whose only desire seems to be to, individually, though a microscopic spot, yet collectively a great working force, whose aim is to accomplish a big task and they do so. "More later on. Remember me to all the boys. With kindest regards to THE NEWS force and staff, I am, "Yours Truly,

"A. H. KELLER, "Emergency Hospital, Nitro, West Virginia."

"Camp Taylor, Ky., "October 16, 1918.

"Dear NEWS: "One, two, three, four, sometimes I wish there were more." Thus ran a popular song several years ago. At Camp Taylor the song has been revived, that is the 'one, two, three, four' part, but so far I have never heard any of the fellows wishing there was any more.

"From morning until night one can hear the constant counting, intermingled at frequent intervals with 'catch that step,' or 'you're in the army now, you're not behind a plow.' I imagine if Von Hindenburg were in the American army and had to drill all day long in the hot sun over a cinder-strewn drill field he would have less love for the 'All-Highest' than he now has.

"But it's a great life and those who drill regularly are transformed from weak civilians into hardy, 'hard-boiled' soldiers and before long they had just as soon be attending a picture show as drilling. O, yes, just as soon!

"Two days' drill out of two months' service is a record, I think, and I hold it. The rest of the time I have either been recovering from the effects of the 'shots' or pounding a typewriter, the latter being my avocation at the present time.

"How soon I will get to see the 'big show' I don't know, but I hope the time will not be long off. In my opinion if I don't get to go across within the next six months if I see France I will have to pay my own expenses. I don't know of anything that brings greater joy to a soldier here than to receive his overseas orders.

"Life, it is said, is just one darn thing after another, but army life is different, so different—it is the same darn thing day in and day out, which explains why I will have to close. With best regards I am, "Respectfully,

"WAYNE COTTINGHAM, "Finance Office, Q. M. Detach, Camp Taylor, Ky."

The following letter was received a few days ago by Mrs. Swift Champ from her nephew, Mr. Ira D. Thompson, of Paris, who is stationed at the U. S. Navy Rifle Range, near Annapolis Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.:

"Dear Aunt Lula: I received your letter a few days ago, and have not had time to answer it until now. The box of candy was so interesting that I just have to take time to write now. "Have been getting along fine, through the Spanish influenza so far, and I don't think I will get it. We had a large number of cases out here and several deaths. I heard the other day that there were several thousand cases of the influenza at Camp Zachary Taylor, but I don't know whether there is any truth about it or not.

"I am improving in my shooting every day now, and have made both army and navy expert rifleman, and neither of them was so easy. I think the army was the hardest of the two. I made a score of 256 out of a possible 300. Have been going to machine gun school for two weeks, and after I have finished the course I will be about a ninety or one hundred per cent. small arms instructor. This work gets rather tiresome some times, but after all it is not so bad. I have been trying every way I could to get a chance to cross the big pond, but it seems that they don't know a good man to face the Germans when they see him, so I am still here. Our commander told us last week that as soon as the influenza was over he was going to see that all the highest qualified men went across and he can do it if he only asks, because he is one of Col. Harlie's best officers, and the Colonel is the only one that has to say that we can go and we are gone. I am very glad indeed to get the paper, and enjoy reading about the slackers, the men in the service, etc. Well will write again soon.

"Lovingly, "IRA."

LIMIT RAISED ON W. S. STAMP PURCHASES.

War Savings Stamps of the forthcoming series of 1919 to the limit of $1,000 may be purchased by persons who already hold that amount of the current series of 1918, by an act which removes at once the limit of $100 on the amount of stamps sold to any person at one time, and provides that the limit of $1,000 (maturity value) on that amount that may be held shall apply to only one series.

The new act, which was approved September 24, 1918, also provides for the raising of $4,000,000,000 instead of $2,000,000,000 by War Savings Stamps.

COHEN ASKS PRESIDENT TO FIX PRICE OF 1919 WHEAT.

Commissioner of Agriculture Matt Cohen wired President Woodrow Wilson asking that the price of the 1919 wheat crop be placed at $2.50 a bushel. The National Wheat Growers' Association of America is endeavoring to get President Wilson to fix the price at $2.45 a bushel. Commissioner Cohen, working in conjunction with the National Wheat Growers' Association, and realizing the increased cost of labor, believes that a price of $2.50 would be reasonable.

A HERO EVERY DAY.

It was the night of June 7, 1918. In the town of Bourges, France, taken that day from the Germans, dog-tired United States Marines under Captain Randolph T. Zane were awaiting the counter-attack they felt sure must come. And they were right. Preceded by a heavy machine gun fire, the Hun infantry advanced against the town. But Captain Zane was ready for them. A human dam of energy, of fearlessness and coolness, he set a personal example of heroism for his men that inspired those tired marines to super-human things. Germany wanted that town. Germany was willing her men die—in droves if necessary—that Bourges be recaptured. But against Germany was pitted Captain Randolph T. Zane and his United States Marines. Line after line of the advancing hordes went down, but the rest ploughed forward, expecting every moment that the Marines would weaken and retreat. Within 30 feet of the town, the Hun morale broke. The counter-attack was spent. Captain Zane had won his fight. More than that, he had won the Distinguished Service Cross, which was awarded him for his gallantry.

NEWSPAPERS ARE FEELING EFFECT OF WAR.

The war's effect upon newspapers was told at a meeting of the Inland Daily Press Association, at Chicago. H. N. Kellogg, chairman of the special Standing Committee of the association, asserted that labor conditions have forced the consolidation of 250 dailies in the United States, and the suspension of 550 papers since the war began. Prediction was made that the cost of paper would reach $80 a ton soon, an increase of $10 over the present price. Delegates were present at the meeting from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and Missouri.

THE BOURBON NEWS and all small country papers are now paying $100 a ton for paper f.o.b. Cincinnati.

The Autumn Welworths Are Here---and the Price is Still Unchanged

—Here's an announcement of which we are justly proud, for it evidences many things about which a real service-giving store has a right to feel proud.

—First, it stresses the point that we will keep prices as low as we can as long as we can.

—Second, it proves the benefit to the consumer of our intimate co-operation with worthy manufacturers.

—Thirdly, it exemplifies a style service, which brings us the new styles first, the same styles on the same day as they first appear in the recognized style centers of the country.

These Welworths are still priced at $2.00. They now and for many months past have represented values that would warrant a much higher price. Before the end of the present year the price must inevitably be increased to $2.50.
